UUAC, a 240-member, vibrant and growing congregation located 20 miles west of Boston, is seeking a Director of Music Ministry. Working with our Minister, Music and Worship Committees and the Choirs, the Director will enhance the worship experience with the selection, preparation and performance of music primarily from the Unitarian Universalist tradition, and also drawing from diverse musical styles. The Director is a vital member of our church ministry team supporting the work and life of our church.

The Director would:

- Conduct choir at Sunday services during the church year (September through mid-June)
- Accompany the choirs on organ and piano
- Rehearse with the adult choir Thursday evenings and on Sundays before the church service
- Rehearse and conduct children's choir for one Sunday service per month throughout the church year
- Expand and supervise the maintenance of the church's music library
- Plan for and participate in other activities where music can help enhance the church's ministry.

The Director would be:

- An accomplished organist and pianist
- An experienced choral director with the ability to simultaneously direct and accompany
- Experienced and comfortable with children's choir direction
- Able to research and plan appropriate music to support the worship theme
- Committed to growing with the church and establishing a thriving music ministry
- Comfortable with diverse musical styles.

Experience with Unitarian Universalist music is a plus.

The position will remain open until filled.
